

A part of the EBSCO Information Services group.

Tim Collins
Division General Manager
Vice President

January 8, 2003

To whom it may concern:

EBSCO Publishing is a provider of online research services to libraries headquartered in the historic buildings along the Ipswich River that once housed Ipswich Mills. We have worked with Don Bowen and members of his team at Meridian Engineering on numerous occasions during the purchase and renovations of our 225,000 square foot campus. Meridian has helped us research numerous potential acquisitions of property surrounding our buildings as we have looked to secure additional facilities and parking for our employees. We have completed the acquisition of 3 properties and have developed 2 with their assistance. We anticipate the development of the third within the next 18 months and plan to utilize Meridian Engineering for this project.

We have always been pleased with the quality of work performed by Meridian Engineering and with the speed at which it has been completed. I am pleased to recommend Meridian Engineering to prospective clients and would be happy to take a call to provide additional information if this would be helpful to you.

Sincerely,

Tim Collins
Division General Manager
Vice President