To Whom It May Concern:

The LEAP School has had the privilege of engaging the services of Meridian Engineering over the past few years. Without Meridian Engineering and their dedicated staff, our Lexington location would not be housed in the beautiful building and property it is in today. Meridian Engineering made an extremely complicated process with the town boards much less stressful for us with their expertise and knowledge of the right questions to ask. More importantly, they knew the right solutions so we could build the school we wanted!

As far as other projects we have worked on together, I can not thank them enough for their support, encouragement, dedication and hard work. When we had tough deadlines to meet, Meridian met them. In the face of great adversity, they kept us centered and focused on the issues that needed to be addressed so we could move forward with the project at hand.

We feel truly fortunate to have had the opportunity to work with a professional organization like Meridian. We look forward to working together again on our next project.

Thank you again for helping us to realize our dreams.

Sincerely,

Marc A. Shapiro
